Foundation of the British Treasury, hard working but little recognized publicly and greatly under-paid. He and his family find.