A casserole is another form of long, slow cooking that can be put on early in the morning. This involves placing all ingredients in a covered casserole dish and cooking in a slow oven. The dish is then typically served hot, making it an ideal recipe for slow-cooked meals. Casserole Dishes - Chest of Books