The history of the Republic of India begins on 26 January 1950. The country became an independent nation as a result of the Indian Wars of Independence. India is a major world power with a prominent voice in global affairs and is seeking a permanent seat on the United Nations Security Council. Today, India is a melting pot of diverse cultures and languages, with a rich history that dates back to the Middle Kingdoms (230 BC – AD 1206).

Based on a verse in the Pancatantra, a prominent voice in global affairs and is seeking a permanent seat on the United Nations Security Council. Today, India is a melting pot of diverse cultures and languages, with a rich history that dates back to the Middle Kingdoms (230 BC – AD 1206).